Students to Help Codify Ordinances

In what may be one of the first projects of its kind, University of Santa Clara law students and City of Campbell, through its City Attorney, have joined forces in the completion of City of Campbell's municipal code.

Joint announcement of the project was made today by John M. Chargin, Mayor; Richard W. Morton, Chairman of the Ordinance Committee of City of Campbell; and Dean Warren P. McKenney, of the University of Santa Clara Law School.

A group of four second-year law students, chairmanned by Ed Nino will work under the supervision of City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina and Dean Warren P. McKenney in collecting, organizing and re-writing city ordinances. The students in addition to Nino are: Terence Ford, Stockton; Richard Sanguinitti, San Jose; and Grant Winther, Palo Alto. Nino lives in Santa Clara.

Upon the incorporation of City of Campbell, the City Council adopted municipal ordinances in code form, but a final compilation and the publishing of a formal code as such has not been undertaken until this time.

"While law student groups at various universities have assisted municipal authorities in the compilation of reports on current legal problems, this is probably the first time to our knowledge that such a codification project has been attempted with the assistance of university law students", commented City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina, in connection with the start of the project.

Assistance will be provided by the legal department, League of California Cities and National Institute of Municipal Law Officers.

Workmen found an old ledger with accounts for 1919. indicating that business must have been pretty good.

GOP Leader Scores Missile Era Critics

H. Meade Alcorn, chairman Republican National Committee. told an audience Monday at Hawaiian Gardens that in 1951 the Truman administration spent two-thirds as much to support the price of peanuts as it did for guided missile research. Only now with Soviet advancement with Sputnik have the Democrats in Congress realized the importance of President Eisenhowers original budget request. He said criticism from that source in the light of these conditions is entirely unwarranted.

The 50-year old national chairman said those who are making the sharpest accusations are the same Democrats whose cheap money policies gave the nation its worst case of galloping inflation, deflating the dollar 39c from 1939 to 1952 as compared with 3c decline 1952 to date

This jump was the second largest, percentage-wise, reported by any Central Valley community at the last report meeting. Los Gatos made the largest advance with a 35 per cent leap.

Campbell's United Giver-Red Feather fund now totals $7,140. Praising his fellow workers for the rapid rise, Willoughby said, "Another week, like last would put us well over the goal."

State Approves Aid For Six School Projects in Campbell

Third High School to Open In 1959 and Enroll 1400

Approval was given yesterday at Sacramento for a third school in the Campbell Union High School District to cost $2,649,679.92, of which sum the district will pay $768,680.95 and the State $1,880,990.97, according to Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent. It is to be a full four-year school located on an extension of Delmar Avenue, north of Dicks Market.

Hill said it is expected the School will open with an enrollment of 1400 in September, 1959.

There are to be 38 standard classrooms, library, arts and crafts room, music room, home economics room, science room, shop, gymnasium, cafetorium, and offices. The allocation will include cost of furniture and equipment. The site embraces 44 acres.

In addition to the sum allocated by the state from Chapter 19 funds, an additional $15.500 was allowed for a house and lot to be added to site to round it out with an extension to Delmar Avenue.

Hill also said the allocation does not allow for site development as the state had no plans for this yet. He will return at a later date to seek an additional sum for site development.

Five Projects Approved for Elementary School District

Five projects for the Campbell Union Elementary School District were approved by the State Allocation Board at Sacramento, two being for purchase of sites for new schools and three for school buildings, according to word brought back by William C. Henley, district superintendent, last night.

One of the sites is to be in the southwest part of the district and the other is to be in the southeast part.

Cost of additions to existing schools and for one new school will total $1,029,077 plus costs of the two new sites, and of this total the school district will contribute $465,000 of its bond money, and the state will contribute the balance of the total.

The sum of $426,859 is allowable for the Lynhaven School to be built on Cypress Avenue. It is to have eight classrooms, two kindegarten rooms, multipurpose room, kitchen, administrative office. The price includes furnishings, equipment and architect fees.

Four classrooms are to be added to the Cypress School, making a total of 21 classrooms, including home economics room and shop. Cost of this project including site development, furnishings and equipment will be $216,766.

The Blackford School, which has not yet been occupied, will have eight more classrooms including home economics and shop. Cost of this will be $285,452.

Henley said all of these projects are expected to be completed by September, 1958. Completion of the new Lynhaven school will make 14 schools in the Campbell district.

Lions Club Hosts District Officials

Campbell Lions Tuesday evening hosted district officials who spoke to them about membership.

Guests were Dr. William Coughlin, district governor; John Smart, district deputy governor; and George Fernandez, zone chairman.

Using "Hold That Lion" as his topic, Dr. Coughlin told the club it should make every effort to maintain membership and listed some of the reasons for fall in membership.

Another speaker was the Rev. Herbert Neale who told about his 39-day trip to Russia this past summer. Rev. Neale said the Russian people were friendly and interested in talking to Americans.

Ron Arnold, president, reported that $300 had been contributed to the County Hospital Polio department from the Art Jacobson polio fund. The fund was established by the club in memory of Jacobson, who was a polio victim.

Kiwanis Speaker Tells How to Cut County Tax Rate

The need for consolidating some of the many tax districts and setting up common district lines for tax purposes will be one of the greatest factors in reducing the tax rate in Santa Clara County, according to E. F. DeVilbiss, director of the County Tax Payers Association, in a talk Tuesday before the Campbell Kiwanis Club. Steve Goodman was the program chairman.

DeVilbiss pointed out that 29 tax structures make up the $6.44 rate and that nearly every tax district overlaps another. In just ten years population in the county jumped from 250,000 to 550,000, the tax rate jumped from $3.98 to $5.44 and the assessed valuation of land from $280,000,000 to $855,000,000. In the meantime many new needs developed, such as recreation areas, road surveys, schools, roads, increased fire and police forces. There are 16 municipalities now as compared with nine in 1948, and some of the larger cities have annexed great hunks of land diminishing the coverage of the county tax field. He said that school boundaries are not set as an economic structure but exist as of the "archaic past" predicting that in the next 15 years there will probably be a struggle for district leadership. He even saw some school facilities losing value, such as the auditorium, as the district melts into a metropolitan area and no longer is the common meeting place.

Watt's Up, AC - Anything Nuclear?

Campbell housewives probably didn't notice any changes.

The electric clock was still running in the morning and the lights turned on in the same way, but the electricity that ran through the wires into houses in this area came from a little different source last week.

Pacific Gas and Electrity Co. last Thursday put into operation its Vallecitos Atomic Power Plant which is now generating electricity for Northern California through atomic power.

The only difference between the "atomic" electricity and the ordinary household variety is the fuel that heats the water at the plant, turning it into steam to turn the electric turbine generators.

An atomic "furnace" of uranium, using the energy released by a chain reaction of atomic fission, is used to generate steam at the Vallecitos plant. In conventional plants natural gas or oil is used.

En route to homes in this area, atomic electricity is mixed with power produced in all of PGE's 71 other generating plants.

The electricity is the same; only the "flame" has been changed.

He leaves his wife, Angelina, and a son, Louis, both of Campbell.

In Night Driving CHP Urges Care

Driving at night calls for sharper driving for safety, warns the California Highway Patrol.

Fall and winter months with longer hours of darkness usually have a higher than average traffic accident frequency according to Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. Excessive speed and improper use of headlights are two frequent contributing factors during the night hours, he warned.

"Drivers should drive at a speed that will allow them to stop within the sight distance of their car headlights," Caldwell said. "Also, headlights should be properly adjusted to avoid blinding oncoming drivers."

Basic Rate Is Not All of Tax Story

Santa Clara County's "basic" county tax rate of $1.795 is only one piece of the total tax rate behind the tax bills property owners in the county have just received, S. J. Arnold, general manager of the state-wide California Taxpayers' association, pointed out today.

Tax bill for property owners in the city of Campbell included a city tax rate of $.661 for city government purposes.

If property in the county was located in the Campbell school district, the tax bill included a rate of $4.174 for the over-all local share of the cost of public schools in that district.

On top of county, city, and school district tax rates, were levies for special districts, too varied throughout the county to list, Arnold said.

Rites Held for Accident Victim

Services were held Tuesday at Campbell Memorial Chapel for Mrs. Gloria Frances Roman, 24, who was killed Friday night when the car in which she was riding crashed into a utility pole on Union Ave. She made her home at 251 N. Central Ave.

Winners were selected from both divisions and cash prizes awarded. Jim's award was presented by William Norris, poet laureate of California.

The Campbell Press considers the poem an outstanding piece of work for a lad of such tender years and believes its readers will share the same opinion. For this reason we are printing the poem in its entirety.

Stanford 35—U.S.C. 7

Stanford whipped U.S.C. in a very one-sided game. The Indians really romped over. This was the first time this year that Stanford won by that large a margin.

Washington Upsets Oregon

The Washington Huskies upset the Rose-Bowl bound Oregon Ducks 13-7. It was the first defeat of the year for Oregon.

U.C.L.A. Gets Past Washington State

U.C.L.A. came through to take Washington State 19-6 in a very good game.

C.O.P. 21—S.J.S. 6

College of Pacific beat State to take the "Battle of the Bell" series for the fourth straight time. San Jose went in as underdogs, but came through a lot stronger than expected.

Oregon State Ekes by Cal .

The Oregon State Beavers had a 21-0 lead in the first half, but couldn't seem to stop California in the second half. The final score 21-19.

Rams Take 49'ers

The largest crowd in professional football history, 102,368, saw the San Francisco 49'ers go down in defeat of 24 to the Los Angeles Rams 37. Fans were standing in every available spot and another 10,000 were turned away.

The Rams were really fired up working on a pass defense against Tittle. In one series of downs they took Tittle for a 35 yard loss as the Rams really rammed through the 49'ers defense.

Van Brocklin and Dick Dougherty were the Ram's stars of the day.

The 49'ers are still in first place in the Western Division, but I am a little leary of Sunday's game against Detroit as they barely took them two weeks ago.

Cougars Upset James Lick, 14-13 Face Eagles Here

Rebounding from their loss to league leading Santa Clara last week, the Camden High Cougars bounced favored James Lick out of second place in SCVAL standings by edging the Comets, 13-14.

A missed conversion spelled defeat for the touted Comets as the Cougars showed the offensive strength they lacked against Santa Clara.

Mountain View lost to surprising Los Gatos, 32-13, last week, but the Eagles have shown some strength this year and could give the Cougars trouble.

Buc C Hoopsters Split, Slip in Loop

Campbell High's C hoop squad dropped to third place in SCVAL standing this week by splitting their games against James Lick and Camden. The Cs topped Lick, 35-32 but were defeated by Camden, 34-26.

High scorer for the Cs against Lick was Kent Winters with 15 points and high man against Camden was Dick Mayeda with 10 followed by Bill Vega with eight. Zaknich and Hiraki of Camden scored 12 points each against Campbell.

The Cs play Buscher there today and meet Fremont here Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Campbell gym.

D Hoopsters Win, Retain Loop Lead

Campbell High's D cagers kept their grip on first place in SCVAL standing this week by topping James Lick, 28-24, and defeating Camden, 19-11. The wins kept the Ds in a tie for first place with Los Altos.

High scorer for Campbell against Lick was Gary Kanemoto with seven points and top scorer against Camden was Al Sequira with six followed by Don Suhama with five.

The Ds continue their league schedule by meeting Buscher there today at 3:30 p.m. and hosting Fremont Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Campbell gym.

James Lick Bee's Take Cougars 19-0

High flying James Lick handed the Camden Cougar Bees their second loss of the season last week, 19-0, and dropped the Cougars into fourth place in loop standings.

The Cougar Bees host Mountain View today at 3 p.m. at Camden Field. The Eaglets have lost six straight this season and are currently occupying the league cellar so the Cougars will go into the game heavy favorites.

The loss to Lick put the Cougars in a three way tie for fourth place with Los Gatos and Fremont. Camden has won two, lost two and tied one this year. They also lost to Sunnyvale but the game was protetsted and will not count in season standings.

Campbell, Camden JVs Open Rivalry Today

The first intra-district football clash between Campbell High and Camden High will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Campbell field when Campbell's Buccaneer junior varsity takes on the Cougar JVs of Camden.

The clash is expected to open a fine rivalry between the two schools, both of which are in the Campbell high school district. Camden began football competition this year on entering the SCVAL and would like very much to open the series by toppling the elder school.

Campbell will come into the game a slight favorite over the Cougars on the basis of past records of the two teams but both squads are sure to be up for this one and the Cougars will be ready to throw out the record books.

Campbell has won one and lost two this season while the Cougars have won one and lost three. Both teams beat Sunnyvale by one touchdown, Campbell stopping the Jets, 25-18, and Camden beating them 6-0.

The Bucs have lost to Fremont, 12-6, and to Los Gatos, 20-13. Camden has dropped games to Fremont, 32-6, Willow Glen, 32-6, and Lincoln, 26-0.

Campbell will field a big line averaging 190 pounds and a fairly fast backfield against the Cougars. The Campbell line is anchored by hard hitting Fernau Pillinini. The 230 lb. tackle has been outstanding offensively and defensively for the Bucs all year.

Buc Coach Wade Wilson will be depending heavily on the running of left half Cal Hogg and quarterback Dick Sundt to move against the Cougars. "T" quarterback Sundt passed for one touchdown and ran over for another against Sunnyvale two weeks ago in his first game as starting Buc quarterback.

Hard driving Buc fullback Jess Ledesma may not see action against the Cougars and Wilson will be alternating Jeff Davis and Hogg at the fullback slot.

Camden's single wing attack will be spearheaded by halfback Tom Margrave. Margrave, a fast shifty runner, has scored all the Cougar TDs this year and could give the Bucs plenty of trouble.

Teaming up with Margrave against the Campbell defense will be tailback Larry Fiest and blocking back Tony Silva. Silva leads the team on the field and Cougar Coach Ron Walters considers him the most dependable back on the squad.

The Cougar forward wall has been extremely strong in the middle this season, but Walters has been plagued with weaknesses at the end positions.

Guard Gil Soper and tackle John Buck have been outstanding in the Camden line this year and the Cougars will be counting on them to contain the Buc offense.

Defensive end Dave Mauro and defensive halfback Ed Benevich have been improving steadily this season and will see plenty of action against Campbell today.

Hornets Tackle Livermore Here For Division Title

The undefeated Billy Wilson Hornets, Pop Warner Conference southern division champs, return to Campbell to host northern division champion Livermore in a clash for the Northern California title.

Game time is 2:15 p.m. at the High Campbell field.

The Hornets crushed San Anselmo, 39-13, last week to retain their unmarred record of six straight league wins.

The Hornet first string played only six minutes of the game and the second unit went on to roll up the lopsided score.

Randy Sutton, Hornet "T" quarterback and single-wing tailback, drove for 110 yards and two touchdowns in seven carries to give the Hornets an early lead that was never threatened.

The Hornets will be favored to win Sunday's tilt. Livermore comes into the game with a 5-1 season record but they lost to the Hornets, 13-0 in a pre-season exhibition.

But Livermore will be tougher to handle Sunday and the Hornets may be in for a surprise.

The pre-season loss came after Livermore had practiced for only two weeks and the Hornets feel that Livermore was the toughest team they have faced all season.

Bees Rip Knights, 34-0, To Stay in Title Race

Right half Marc Bahl, who has no respect for enemy linebackers, took a pass for one touchdown and scooted 84 yards to set up another to spark the Campbell High Bees their fifth win, 34-0, over the stunned Los Altos Knights.

The win kept the Bees in a tie for second place in loop standing with James Lick. Both teams have a 5-1 season record. Undefeated Santa Clara leads the league.

The Bees face eighth place Sunnyvale tomorrow at Fremont at 6 p.m. in a preliminary to Campbell-Sunnyvale varsity contest. Campbell will get the acid test next Thursday when they tackle Santa Clara here at 3 p.m. in a game that should decide the loop championship.

Bahl, who had the Knight line grunting all afternoon, was the workhorse for the Bees against Los Altos, picking up short gains for first downs to keep Campbell drives moving.

Bee signal caller Benny Lujan, whose injured wrist was no handicap this week, completed seven of 13 passes for two touchdowns and a total of 112 yards in the first three quarters.

Left half Ron Wilson, who has been the Bees' leading ground gainer this season, took a Lujan toss for one TD and blasted around end from eight yards out for another in turning in a fine performance for Campbell.

Lujan and Co. were spelled in the third quarter by a "second string" backfield that most coaches in the league would be happy to have for a starting team.

Led by quarterback Craig Morton, the "second unit scored two more touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters and continued to bottle up what there was of the Knight offense.

Morton, who has been playing in Lujan's shadow all season, proved to be another Los Altos headache by plunging over for one score and passing for another.

Bee guard Jim Toyota played his usual fine defensive game and added two more points to the Bee total when he dumped a Los Altos passer in the Knight end zone for a safety in the fourth quarter.

Center Danny Schwartz, back in the lineup after a week's absence, also played a fine defensive game for the Bees in the linebacker slot.

After the Knights had driven to the Campbell 12, early in the game, Schwartz shot through to drop the Los Altos passer for five yard loss that cost the Knights the ball. Later in the same quarter, Schwartz teamed up with Lujan to break up a Knight pass in the Campbell end zone to stop another Los Altos drive at the Campbell 12.

The Bees opened the scoring midway in the first quarter when they marched 36 yards in four plays to score. Wilson set up the touchdown when he galloped 14 yards around end to the Knight 19. Lujan's toss to Bahl on the next play was good for the TD and Bahl went through the center for the conversion to make it 7-0.

After driving downfield twice inside the Campbell 15 and failing to score, the Knights opened another scoring drive late in the second period, moving to a first down on the Bee 37.

But Bahl again put the damper on the Los Altos hopes when he grabbed a Knight pass at the Campbell eight and scampered 84 yards up the sideline to the Los Altos eight to set the second Campbell score.

With only ten seconds left in the half, Wilson went around end on the next play to score standing up and make it 13-0.

The Bees scored again early in the third quarter after they took a Los Altos punt good for only two yards on their own 42 yard line.

After Bahl and Wilson had picked up two first downs and moved the ball to the Knight 30, Lujan fired to right end Bob Straight in the end zone to make it 19-0.

Following a punt by Los Altos after the kickoff, the new backfield of Morton, halfbacks Wade Allison and Ron Oburn and fullback Dick Perry moved all the way to the Knight five before Oburn fumbled and Los Altos recovered.

But the Bees got a break in return when Toyota crashed through into the end zone to give Campbell a safety and a 21-0 lead.

The Bees moved right back to score after Perry took the Los Altos free kick at the Bee 38 and returned to the Knight 44. Morton's 23 yard pass to right end Jack Schraub at the Knight one yard line set up the score.

Morton drove over one play later for the TD to climax the nine play drive. He added the extra point on a sneak to make it 28-0 with five minutes left in the game.

Campbell scored again with only seconds remaining on a drive that covered 37 yards in seven plays. Left end Fred Marinucci tallied when he made a diving Billy Wilson type catch of an 18 yard Morton pass and rolled into the end zone to cap the Campbell scoring.

Football Woes at San Jose College

The football problems at San Jose State College will be submitted to Dr. Roy Simpson, state superintendent of schools at a meeting in Sacramento, December 3, according to action taken Tuesday night by the Citizens Committee, the college Advisory Board and Dr. John Wahlquist, the College president. Emerson "Doc" Arends of Campbell heads the Citizens' Committee for a Progressive College along with E. F. DeVilbiss. L. D. Bohnett is head of the College advisory council.

Buccaneers Edge Los Altos, 13-7, for First Win

Big Kenny Buran gathered in a screen pass from quarterback Bob Whitewing and powered 55 yards for a touchdown with only four minutes left in the game to give the Campbell High Buccaneers a come-from-behind win over the Los Altos Knights last week, 13-7.

The hard driving fullback scored both Campbell touchdowns to spark the Bucs to their first win of the season over the favored Knights in the first SCVAL meeting of the two teams.

The Bucs will be looking for their second win when they clash with the Sunnyvale Jets at Fremont tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The Jets currently share sixth place in SCVAL standings with Campbell and have a 1-5 season record. Their only win was over Los Gatos, 6-0, but their showing this season has been impressive.

Washington topped the Jets by only one touchdown, 6-0, Camden edged them, 7-6, and Mountain View squeezed by on a 14-12 score to hand Sunnyvale three defeats that could easily have gone the other way.

The Jets have good offensive strength in two extremely fast halfbacks, John Dutra and Fernie Garcia, and a highly mobile line led by tackle Dick Dalke, who has been termed one of the best tackles in the league.

Sunnyvale should enter the game a slight favorite but if the Bucs can muster some of the offensive potential they showed last week they could stop the Jets.

Buran Runs Wild

In the win over Los Altos, Buran ran wild for the Bucs accounting for 171 yards of the Campbell net offensive total of 219 yards. The 191 lb. junior carried the ball 16 times for 96 yards on the ground for a six yard average per carry and took two Whitewing passes for 20 and 55 yards respectively.

Whitewing, who was shifted to starting quarterback for the Los Altos game, had a good day in the air completing three out of five passes for 95 yards and a TD.

Rough 'n tumble Tom Farley, playing guard and linebacker against the Knights, was a defensive terror. Farley broke through the Knight line several times to drop Los Altos passer Jim Going for big losses on crucial plays and recovered a Knight fumble in the first quarter to set up the first Buc touchdown.

Linebacker LeRoy States teamed up with Farley to put the stops on the Knight running game and hold Los Altos to only 109 yards on the ground.

Also outstanding defensively for the Bucs were ends Jim Omura and Dick Aldrich and guard Dick Adams. Adams, Aldrich and tackle Dave Walters, who also moved up to the first string for the Los Altos tilt, got together to put the rush on Going to nip a last-minute scoring threat by the Knights.

Halfback Ron Corbus turned in a fine performance for Campbell. Corbus intercepted a Knight pass to stop a Los Altos drive in the fourth quarter and broke loose for 20 yards on an end sweep in the second quarter.

Offensive workhorse for Campbell was fullback Don Womer, who alternated with Buran and carried the ball nine times for a 2.3 yard average per carry and kicked the lone Campbell conversion.

Bucs Score First

Campbell opened the scoring in the first quarter after Farley recovered a Knight fumble at the Los Altos 25.

Buran went around end on the next play for eight yards and after Whitewing's pass went incomplete on second down, Buran picked up a first down on a sweep to the Los Altos seven.

And it was Buran moving around right end again two plays later who went in to score from three yards out to give the Bucs a 6-0 lead.

A bad pass from center went over Smith's head on the conversion attempt and Womer was unable to kick the PAT.

The Knights started back upfield after the kickoff moving all the way to the Buc 22 on a 34 yard pass from Going to end Dick Sault.

But the drive fizzled when Buc halfback Jerry Cooper nabbed Los Altos halfback Bill Zelmer's pass at the Campbell 15 and returned to the Knight 39.

The Bucs threatened again late in the half when they moved to a first down on the Los Altos five. But the Knight defense tightened, and pushed Campbell all the way back to the Knight 26 where Los Altos took over on downs.

Knights Take Lead

Los Altos got back in the game in the third quarter when they took the second half kickoff and marched 66 yards in seven plays to score. Going climaxed the drive when he went 31 yards on a keeper for the TD.

The Knights faked a kick on the conversion attempt and fullback Kirby Martin crossed up the Buc defense by passing to halfback Bill Denton for the PAT to put the Knights out in front, 7-6.

The Bucs threatened to regain the edge as the third quarter ended when they drove 48 yards in nine plays to a first down on the Knight five.

But the drive sputtered when the Knight defense, led by Zelmer stiffened and drove the Bucs back to the Los Altos 21. Zelmer, the 130 lb. Los Altos sparkplug, proved to be the only man who could stop Buran when he held the big fullback to only two yards on two sweep plays.

The Bucs finally found the scoring combination late in the fourth quarter when they took a Knight punt at their 28 and started their last minute scoring drive.

A 20 yard pass play from Whitewing to Womer set up Buran's crowd-raising 55 yard touchdown ramble down the east sidelines that put the Bucs out in front, with only four minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. Womer's extra point made it 13-7.

STATE BUILDING ON WINCHESTER ROAD

A one story building to cost $80,000 is to be started soon by the State of California to house their Department of Veterans affairs offices serving the Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito Counties. It is to be located on Winchester Road, south of Stevens Creek Road.

Park Site Is the Answer

Development of the abandoned gravel pit at the edge of the southern city limits into a community park site has met with approval from many sources, although so ar it is just a gleam in the eyes of those who see the possibilities of its development—but the potentialities are there.

Converting this man-made waste-land into an attractive recreational center, we maintain, will be the best thing that has ever happened to our community.

Campbell needs a community project which every resident will be able to use and enjoy.

This park-site, in our opinion, is the answer.

The Future IS Important

Reconciling viewpoints of individuals who are interested in the development of the community, but who have different interests presents one of the most difficult problems in Campbell today.

The individuals who have businesses here, but live elsewhere naturally will see the picture in a different perspective than those who reside here but work in another area.

Those who have businesses and also live here will see the "big picture" in still a different light while those who merely work and live here perhaps on a temporary basis will view things even more differently.

These varied viewpoints on many occasions have provided a stumbling block to the advancement of the community in any coordinated manner.

Naturally a person who owns an attractive home should be vitally concerned with how any industrial development in a nearby section will affect his residence.

The industrialist, whoever, who lives in another community will not have the same outlook over what affects his particular concern. On the other hand, he will be extremely concerned should an industry start developing in the area in which he resides.

The merchant who has his business here, but lives in another community faces a similar dilemma He wants industrial progress in order to bring the extra payrolls which mean more sales. But he is not a voter in the community in which he does busienss; so his attitude must be tempered somewhat, for it is by votes that eventually, directly or indirectly, will decide the development of a town.

We feel it is impossible to attempt to satisfy all points of view and probably would be useless to try.

A case in point is the current "CM" zoning hassle that has been going on for a number of months.

We think one of the reasons it has been difficult for those who favor "CM" and those who oppose it to reach any sort of amicable agreement is because the "big picture" of the future is being looked at differently by both sides.

Another interesting sidelight is that the Planners and the City Councilmen have been carrying the ball all by themselves in their endeavor to do what they think is best for the city as a whole.

This has proved an extremely difficult task in face of the bitter criticism and accusations that have been leveled at them by the opposition.

A big point has been made by the opposition to this apathy of the people. And rightly so.

The opposition has asked "where are these people you are protecting? Have they been to a meeting? Have they voiced their approval?"

And the Planners and City Fathers have to admit that they are forced to play by ear as they view the future.

They maintain, however, that they have a responsibility to these people whether the people make their desires known or not.

It is a difficult situation at best.

We don't know whether it is even possible to find a common denominator. But we do feel that whether one lives here, works here or has an industry or business here, the viewpoint of the situation should not be limited to just today or even tomorrow.

The future is important to all of us.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Sputnik has put the spotlight on our alleged weakness in science as compared to Russians.

In a national cry of fright the question is asked, "How can we get American youth more interested in science than now?

Well, I look back over the years to when our teen-age boys were interested in science in a big way—in fact, to when as a teen-ager I was much interested in science myself.

Back before 1900 a cousin and I clubbed together and bought a copy of Experimental Science, a big thick book by George M. Hopkins. It was a book for boys. And ours was the 14th edition. Such was its popularity.

Eventually I bought my cousin out, and the book is before me as I write. I have treasured it over the years. It thrills me yet. For instance, even the electric light was new back then.

Back then Campbell had no electric lights. San Jose had few electric lights in private homes. Electric lights in San Jose stores were supplied with current from a dynamo right in town run by steam power. Often I rode my bike to the power plant and watched the current being made with utmost fascination.

After our high school was established in Campbell a group of our boys took up radio as a teen-age hobby. After school these boys made their own sets. The first set in my own home was made by Windsor and Cecil Cutting, and had ear phones. You could listen without disturbing the rest of the family!

Among Campbell high school Among Campbell high school boys who made radio sets as a scientific hobby were the two Cutting brothers mentioned, Bernard Robson, Harold Cramer, Perry Shelley, Courtland Watson, Dennis Bennett, and others whose names I forget. Dennis Bennett later told me that he was "saved" by his interest in the study of radio.

Radio is now so much a part of our lives that it is hard to realize how new it is. Marconi, the Italian generally credited with its invention, began with "wireless telegraphy" in 1895. In 1896 he sent a message as much as nine miles! In 1898 he established communication by wireless across the English Channel.

He became interested in electrical science as a boy. When he startled the world with wireless he was only 21. I recall the incident well because I was 21 myself. And I was studying the telegraph code myself, just for fun.

But at this point my interest changed. I turned to study of philosophy, an effort to understand man himself. And at this project I've been mentally busy ever since, or for over 60 years.

Marconi died in 1937 at age 63. But his work was done. I am living on, for my work has hardly begun. True, in the 10 years between 53 and 63 I put my philosophy into a magazine going to the grocery business, in which I'd had experience.

Perhaps I helped a little to reform the grocery business. It's certainly better. Where distribution of groceries can be much improved I don't know. Do you?

With my work for the grocery business done I turned to something I thought very important, the effort to educate education. In 20 years of trying I haven't learned how.

For a brief time I had an ally in Alexander Woollcott, a real wit. Over the radio he said, "We call it educating students in classic literature when we take them by the scruff of the neck and rub their reluctant noses in it."

Back over the years Mark Twain had contributed his bit. He wrote, "A classic is something everybody wants to have read and nobody wants to read."

Twain lived to be 75 and toward the end was rather sour on the world. What he saw in faults of education didn't make him feel any better, as his remark suggested.

In their ways Twain and Woollcott had said virtually the same thing.

Philosophically viewed what these two wits suggested was this: "Stop rubbing the reluctant noses of students in the great literature in which they are not interested. Encourage them to study the science in which they are interested naturally, as past history shows. Then we'll out sput the Russsian sputnik."

Having out sputted the Russian sputnik, we may get enough gumption to try leading the world in man's understanding of himself.

OUT on the LIMB

George Vierhus

This column will appear while we are in absentia, as our attorney friends whould phrase it, we think.

At least we hope we will be out of town and as we write this that is our intention.

But we have been around long enough to know that nothing is certain but death and taxes and a whole raft of things might occur before next Thursday to make a change of plans mandatory.

Should that happen then this column will sound more disorganized than usual, if that is possible.

We feel we owe it ourselves, the paper and the guys we work with to get away for a while.

—o—

We owe an apology to Bill Harrison of The Virginian, and Ruby Santamaria and Chef Gilbert Nevarez of the staff of that popular eating place for the lousy picture we ran of them last week.

We admit that the reproduction was not of the best. All three of the people look much better than that.

We knew it wasn't up to our best work but we ran it because we thought it was newsworthy. Burglaries of safes don't take place every day. Something for which we can be thankful.

One advantage of a weekly newspaper is that, although we try to be johnny-on-the-spot with our news and pictures, the time angle is not as important to us as it would be to a metropolitan daily. We threw that in because there are probably some who question why we would run a picture in the first place ten days after and incident had oc- days after and incident had occurred.

We hope the people in the picture won't be too harsh on us and condemn us forever for the poor picture. That would be something like getting a poor prime rib at Bill's (an unusual circumstance, we assure you) and then claiming that you never would eat there again.

You can't win 'em all.

We are sorry our friend Bill was involved, for it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

—o—

To write this column so far ahead of press day, we have had to resort (as we have done a number of times in the past), to our notes that we have hanging around.

For example we note where Sam Reed, principal of the high school, told us some time ago that for the first month of school this fall the attendance was 99.4 per cent.

We were amazed by such a terrific record, for it was our thinking at first that the figure represented all absences by the kids. In face of flu and other kindred ills that always face students in school, we thought the percentage was really startling.

Sam soon straightened us out. He explained that the figure did not include so-called "excusable" absences and that sickness was definitely excusable.

Thus less than one per cent during the month were "inexcusably" absent.

That's still a pretty good record.

—o—

We have another note in our files that pertains to school.

Not long ago we participated in a discussion with Neal Royer, assistant superintendent of elementary schools, in which we expounded to some length on the change of attitude of parents today toward the teacher and school as compared to that when we were in school.

We admit this idea of talking about "when we were kids" is a very popular pastime among old fogies like us. But our point was that we recalled when we acted up in school and got caught and punished we could expect a du--plicate of the same when we got home, if our parents ever found out.

Shucks, we never had a chance to complain about the teachers. In our house they were right and we kids were wrong.

We allowed that the thinking on that score had changed a little in this day and age.

Neal was inclined to a certain extent to agree with us.

To illustrate, however, that the thinking has not changed in all cases, he told us a cute story about his youngster which we hope he won't mind us repeating.

—o—

When Neal was principal of one of the local schools one of his sons was in one of the lower grades.

One day the youngster asked his dad if it could be arranged for him to be transferred to another school. He didn't go for this idea of his dad being boss man of the same school he was attending.

Neal though it could be arranged. But before the transfer could be carried out his son informed him that he had changed his mind. He thought it would be better if he stayed where he was.

He told Neal his reasons:

He figured that, if he should get in trouble and be sent to his dad, the principal, he would be punished all right. But that would be the end of it.

On the other hand, if he were at another school and was sent to the principal, he would catch it there and then again at home when his dad learned about it.

The youngster decided that he would be better off to take his chances on just one punishment at a time. So he wanted to stick around in his dad's school.

That's good reasoning.

We thing the little guy will go far.

—o—

As a rule in this column we don't touch a great deal on state, national, international or sputnik problems. We figure we can find enough to do in our own back yard.

However, we think it is only fair to sympathize to some degree to the horrible predicament the Republicans in this state have gotten themselves into by their behind-and-in-front-of-the scenes maneuvering in the gubernatorial fracas.

In our opinion they have maneuvered themselves into a position whereby it seems they seem hard put to win for losing.

Despite the millions of words on the subject, it is difficult for us to understand how our state will be so much better off by a job-swap switch.

$1,000 Scholarship Made Available to Graduating Senior

One graduating senior from each of the high schools as San Jose, Campbell, Los Gatos and Sunnyvale will receive a cash award as the outstanding student according to an announcement today by the California Building and Loan League. San Jose savings and loan associations, First Federal Savings, Guaranty Savings, Pioneer Investors Savings and Surety Savings, are actively participating in the program in making the awards next year.

Managing officers of the five association are offering the financial inducements to encourage students to achieve high scholastic standings and to participate in intracurricular activities which develop leadership.

The actual cash award will be made during the Spring of 1958 to an outstanding graduate of each high school during the 1957-58 term. This student must be eligible and plan to attend a college, university, or junior college the next succeeding school semester. At the student's option, he then will be invited to compete in a state-wide essay contest to be held May 24, 1958. Five $1000 scholarships will be awarded the winners of this contest.

The scholarships will be granted students irrespective of any other scholarship funds or grants-in-aid won by the recipient, and there is no restriction on the use of the scholarship funds after receipt

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

Editor, Campbell Press:

I received the tax bill assessed against my property on Winchester Rd. The only improvements are apricot trees. The portion in the City of Campbell is taxed at $118.31 per acre. The portion still in the county is taxed at $64.13 per acre.

What is the City of Campbell giving me that the County of Santa Clara is not?

Are the sewers better than those provided by Sanitation District No. 4?

Would the fire protection be as good without the mutual aid agreement with the Central Fire Protection District that I have in the county?

Can the City of Campbell Planning Commission do something for me that the County Planning Commission cannot do? If so, what and when?

Are the promises of the representatives of the City of Campbell worth $54.18 per acre?

Can anyone grow apricots, pay $118.31 per acre taxes and have enough left over to eat on?

I would appreciate an answer from any one that can help me solve my economic problem.

Respectfully,
P. EARL STUART

FAVORS PARK SITE

George Vierhus
Editor, The Campbell Press
Campbell, California:
Dear Geroge:

I am taking this means to inform you that as a father, a taxpayer and home owner in the City of Campbell, I am in full accord with your editorial of Thursday, November 7, 1957, regarding the proposed park site in this city.

It is my sincere belief that Conucilman Charles Rose who has on his own time investigated possibilities for a park site for a period of two years, is due a large vote of confidence by the citizens of Campbell and most especially by the merchants of the city and by the mens clubs as you have so stated in your editorial.

During the time I was employed by this city, a portion of my duties consisted of speaking before the schools and young peoples groups. One of the questions most often asked by our children was why we could not have a park or recreation area. Last year during a talk before a senior government class at Campbell High School, the point of a park arose and much to my surprise most of the boys in the class came forward to advise that they realized the problem of the lack of help to build such a park and were sure that if the property were available much help in the construction could be obtained on a volunteer basis.

You may rest assured that I for one am talking to my neighbors regarding the problem of a park and feel sure there are other individuals who are doing the same. I am also sure that with two such people as you and Charlie Rose going to bat, the service clubs of the city will come to life and back this most needed project.

Yours truly
DICK

Christmas Checks Reach New High

Santa's going to need more than eight reindeer and a sled to tote his gifts this year if the Bank of America's state-wide Christmas Club totals are any indication of the shopping spree to come.

Roland Risso, Cambrian Park branch manager, said checks totaling $184,700.00 will be in the mail November 15 for 1,743 Christmas Club savers in the Cambrian Park, Saratoga, and Los Gatos area and state-wide totals are the highest

The Green Emerald Knight

by Jim Harville

'Way back in the times of castles and chimes
There were knights and fair maidens and things;
There were three-headed dragons upsetting the wagons
Of very unhappy kings.

There were good kings and bad ones, joyful ones, sad ones
Among them, Kings Richard and John.
The Crusades came along breathing forth their sad song,
And before you could speak men were gone.

With the good kings away, the bad ones would say,
"Let us all work to capture this group;
Without their kings to lead them, or servants to feed them
They will be very easy to dupe."

There was one who had strayed from the tragic Crusade
Who did not like the terrible kings.
He was called Thomas Mains, he had muscles and brains,
And one hundred more wonderful things.

Bad men died from fright when they saw this man fight
In his armor of bright emerald green.
He was strong, he was bright, he was 'most always right.
A better knight no one had seen.

King Simon, the Bad, was terribly mad
When he heard of this brilliant young knight.
He said, "Take him away from his castle today.
We attack it at seven tonight."

At five on that night, the sun was still bright,
As a squad of twelve men rode toward Tom.
But he stood firm his ground, he knocked the men down,
Then rode away, fast as a bomb.

So the scheme did not work. The king lost his smirk.
And now shudders to death just from fright
When a person would mention, in a large third dimension,
The name of the Emerald Knight.

"WHO SAYS IT'S A MAN'S WORLD?"—Part 2

Last week we tried to show that Congress certainly wasn't a man's world. This week I hope we can do the same for the rest of the United States Government.

The first official employment reports for the Federal Service issued in 1923 showed 80,000 women working for Uncle Sam. Today's figures show 576,000 or 21% of our work force. Only one in five works in Washington, D. C. which means that federal employment opportunities for women are nationwide.

The trailblazers who opened up opportunities for women were Mrs. Elizabeth Cresswell and Miss Mary Goddard who were appointed as postmistresses in 1786. Gains for women were slight for a long time until the manpower shortage of the Civil War when men weren't available. Larger gains started with woman suffrage in 1920 and the growth has been steady ever since.

Even the man's world of the military has succumbed to the onrushing petticoat. Today's roster of 7144 female military nurses now comprise only a small percentage of our feminine soldiers, sailors, and airmen. The Army must now purchase snappily tailored uniforms for 8,400 of the fair sex while the Navy must outfit 5,925, the Marines 1,707 and the Air Force 8,652. The Post Office shows even more spectacular gains. Instead of two Postmistresses as in 1786 we now have 15,600 out of a total of 37,400. New York alone has 660.

Increased participation by fair lady in writing state laws seems to follow an interesting pattern. In 1920 (first year of woman suffrage) only 29 women were fullfledged members of State Legslatures. The growth was constant and steady until 1929 and the depression. Then it dropped back slightly and remained constant until 1944. During the Korean War female representatives jumped from 162 in one year to 234 in the next. Since then the principal concern of most Americans has been World Peace and the number has increased steadily to this year's all time high of 321!

It seems that women's greatest interest is international rather than domestic affairs! New Hampshire now heads the list for women lawmakers with 53. Vermont is next with 50 and Connecticut third with 46. Arizona, Pennsylvania, and Washington each have 12. There are seven states with no women legislators, all from the deep south except for Wisconsin.

In the foreign service one-half of all employees, or 2,650, are female headed by Miss Frances Willis, Ambassador to Norway and formerly to Switzerland. Mrs. Clare Booth Luce was the first woman Ambassador to a major European country . . . Six women sit on Federal and United States benches and at least 114 female Justices preside in other courts of the Nation.

Top policy jobs also go to women, e.g., Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, Treasurer of the United States, Mrs. Anne Wheaton first Associate Press Secretary at the White House, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby formerly Secretary of the Health, Education, and Welfare Department, Frances Perkins, formerly Secretary of Labor and a host of others.

NOTE TO MALES ONLY: "Fellows, let's admit it. It just isn't a man's world any longer!"

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Some of the most popular bedding plants for bulb cover are pansies, violas and baby primrose. All are now available at nurseries.

2. Some perennials can be cut back at this time, for instance, Shasta Daisies.

3. All types of container grown plants can be transplanted this week. Many kinds are available at nurseries.

4. This month is a good time to spray the many over-wintering pests which cause diseases in spring.

5. Plant cool weather vegetables like onions, beets and carrots.

Camellia Reticulata

The beauties of camellia japonica have been praised so long and so loudly by California gardeners that the recent successful introduction of camellia reticulata varieties has not received the attention such a wonderful gardening event deserves. Here is a race of camellias possessing many of the excellent qualities of the more famed species, plus larg-sized flowers which undergo amazing color transformation in development.

It was not until 1952 that the reticulata species was available to the California home gardener in quantity. Preceding the introduction were many years of sleuthing and testing by botanists, reports the California Association of Nurserymen.

Reticulatas originated in Yunnan province, China. In 1820 the first examples were brought to the westetrn world, but these were sterile varieties, not suitable for development. Other examples were being raised behind temple walls and it took much intrigue to arrange for their release to the west. In 1948, following a long exchange of letters between an American Dr. Walter E. Lammert, head of Descano Research Division and two Chinese botanists, a delivery of 20 varieties was sent to California via air freight. Fifteen of the 20 varieties were marketed in California in 1952, after four years of testing by California research botanists.

During the years since 1952, many amateur gardeners have raised reticulatas successfully. In one respect the raising of the new species is still adventurous. Although the shrub is reliable, meaning it will thrive with the minimum care required all camellias, botanists are still learning about the unique beauties of this Chinese import.

As an example of the amazing flower transformation previously mentioned in Purple Gown, one of the named varieties, which opens deep purple-red with pin stripes of white. Then, as each petal enlarges, the color changes to wine-red, retaining the minute pin stripes.

Buddha, the 1958 All-America Camellia Selection, changes in form rather than in color. Each petal of the unusually large single blossom of phlox pink, emphasized with contrasting veins of rose, gradually increases in size and becomes more arched inward and curved. At maturity the flowers range from four and one-half to six and one-half inches in diameter.

Reticulatas are distinguished from other camellias by a dull green rather than glossy foliage and by a less compact habit of growth. The flowers, which are usually much larger than those of the camellia japonica, are more like a semi-double peony than like the more formal shapes of many japonicas.

Camellias are rather tolerant of soil and climate conditions but the wise gardener will try to give them conditions as near ideal as possible. The camellia likes acid, moist soil; perfect drainage; a regular deep mulch; light but regular fertilization; and filtered shade. When there are no buds or blossoms on the shrub it will benefit from a light water spraying.

Among the varieties of camellia reticulata generally stocked at this time by local nurseries are Crimson Robe, Captain Rauels, Chang's Temple, Great Butterfly Wings and Tali Queen.

Winter Azaleas

Winter blooming azaleas in containers are bearers of double bounty. The potted plants make excellent indoor decoration now and throughout the holiday season. Following the blooming period the plants can be set outdoors as permanent garden attractions.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests you look over the wide selection of plants available in containers now. Colors range from pink to scarlet and include some variegated forms.

Potted azaleas can be selected to harmonize with seasonal decorations. The orange red of an Indian Azalea like the William Van Orange complements the autumnal decor adopted at Thanksgiving. Later in the year the brisk red of Dorothy Gish, a Rutherfordian Azalea, is especially appropriate.

Colorful azaleas make excellent gifts, either as Christmas presents or as "Thank you" mementos for hostesses. The fact that the gift is permanent will make it most appreciated. An azalea planted in a hostess garden would be a constant reminder to her of a pleasant and thoughful guest.

When the blooming season has ended, potted azaleas can be planted outdoors in a shady or filtered shade area with good drainage and rich, acid soil.

Botanists are constantly coming forth with new varieties of azaleas, so while studying hte winter-blooming type the home gardener might consider bringing lovely azalea blossoms to the garden at other seasons as well.

Primrose for Winter Color

Lovely pastel primroses, if planted right away, can give an extra touch of grace and color winter gardens often need. They find their most popular and practical uses in bulb beds, as potted subjects and around the trunks of trees other than citrus or walnut trees.

As in many other plant families, the species of primroses which are best suited to California's mild climate come from coastal Asia. Two species are particularly recommended by the California Association of Nursermen: primula malacoides an p. obconica, both natives of southern China which have easily adapted themselves to climates throughout the state.

Fairy primrose is the common name for the primula malacoides, a dainty, pastel colored annual. The flat clusters of flowers bloom on long stems above the pale green foliage. Flower colors are pink, rose, white, lavender and lilac.

The other species, primula obconica, is a short-lived perennial, commonly treated as an annual. It has the same general habit as the Fairy Primrose, differing in flower and leaf shape. Colors are pink rose and lilac.

Both species are available now as bedding plants in nurseries throughout California. They should be planted in semi-shade with moist, well-drained soil, enriched by leaf mold and steer manure. If garden soil does not drain well, the home gardener should consider planting primroses in a raised bed, in pots or in tubs.

Ten New Members In Campbell 4-H

At the November 7 meeting of the Campbell 4H Club in the cafetorium of the Cherry Lane School, Jim Payne, president, awarded community leader Dick Slaughter with a silver clover leaf for his five years of service. Other members received pins for having completed last year's projects.

New members Sandra Hedegard, Diana Thompson, JoAnn Scriver, Lynn Stoops, Jackie Greensides, Diana Neal, George Stuart, Danny Neale, Johnny Melvin and Robert Bullian were welcomed into the club.

Both old and new members turned in project cards indicating work planned for the new year. The Campbell club offers projects in sewing, cooking, gardening and farm animals. There is a need for more project leaders so as to widen the scope of projects, according to Louise Pechin, publicity chairman. The club meets on the first Monday of each month and the one scheduled for December 2 will be in the nature of a Christmas party.

Federal and State Funds Alloted for Roads in County

Apportionment of $364,578 in State and Federal funds to Santa Clara County for construction on county roads on the Federal Aid Secondary System was announced today by the State Department of Public Works. Of this sum, $212,695 was FAS fund and $151,883 was state matching fund. The federal funds are allocated on the basis of one-third for area, one third for rural population and one-third on mileage of certain classes of rural mail routes. Money from the state in matching federal funds is determined by 58% Federal to 42% local funds.

Dogs Will Have to Be Vaccinated

An anti-rabies vaccination clinic will be held at the Santa Clara County Health Department 2220 Moorpark Avenue, next Thursday, announced George E, Martin, Public Health Veterinarian. The clinic hours are 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

By ordinance all dogs must be vaccinated against rabies before a dog license can be issued and every dog must be licensed.

There is a non-profit fee of $1.50 for the vaccination which is valid for a period of two years. The 1957-58 license fee is $2.00 per year.

Bloodhound Team Rescues 25 Lost In Mountain Area

Russell Cone of Los Gatos, bloodhound trainer and search expert, has been on 25 missions in 15 counties this year so his number of searches now total one hundred. This is according to his report to California sheriffs, as director of the Calo Rescue Unit, a public service which Cone maintains in behalf of the Calo Dog Food Company.

The rescue unit includes a team of five bloodhounds trained to assist in the search of persons lost in the mountains or the rural areas of California. About twice each month on an average someone becomes lost in the California mountains, necesssitating an organized search and about half this number are children.

Cone has a pocket card on which a set of rules tells what to do when someone is presumed to be lost in the mountains. One of these cards will be sent to any one addressing him: Russ Cone, 20049 Black Road, Los Gatos.
